SOLD A PETTICOAT.

The ladies of the Council of National Defense last week placed on display, in half a dozen stores samples of the little garments the organization is making to send to the war orphans in France and Belgium. Attached to some of the garments were printed cards that read: "The materials in this garment cost 35 cents" or 40 cents or some other amount. Boxes were placed in the windows to receive donations to further this work. At one of the stores a salesman had an application from a colored woman to buy one of the little petticoats and noting the price on it he collected the amount and dropped it into the box. The colored woman reported to her employer how she had helped the little "Belgiums" by buying a petticoat and the sale quickly reached the ears of Miss Lottie Gunn, who frantically rang the phone to explain that the garments on display were not to be converted into cash but were to be sent to the orphans in Europe and that cash was wanted to make more of them.

THIRTY-SIX HOURS A WEEK

IS THE LEAST ANYONE CAN WORK AND ESCAPE IMPRISONMENT.

BIG MEETING TODAY

SECRETARY WILL BE ELECTED AND EMPLOYMENT BUREAU CONSIDERED.

Farmers and every other person who is interested in ridding Hopkinsville and Christian county of loafers should not overlook the meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock of the Anti-Loafers League at Liberty Loan Headquarters. A permanent secretary is to be elected and headquarters established. This is a very important matter and should receive the consideration it deserves.

There will also come before the meeting the proposition to establish an employment bureau in connection with the work of the Anti-Loafers League. An employment bureau would be useful in assisting the unemployed in locating jobs and finding work and would also be an advantage to the employer of labor because he could communicate with the bureau and learn who and what character of labor was registered unemployed. Housewives could use the services of the bureau in locating cooks, washwomen, etc.

Every person who knows of another who is not working as much as 36 hours per week, if able to work at all, should report the case to the Christian County Anti-Loafers League at Hopkinsville and include with the report the names of enough witnesses to warrant a trial and secure a conviction if the person is proven guilty.

The meeting today should be well represented from every section of the county and officers of the law, business people, professional men, farmers and others should attend.

On both sides of Lens, in the central sector of the British front, British raiding parties took prisoners and machine guns. ## BIG CROWDS AT REVIVAL

ARE COMING OUT AND INTEREST GROWS—STRONG SERMONS BY REV. WATERS.

NEW SONG LEADER HERE

REV. H. H. JONES PREACHES PATRIOTIC SERMON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

There are several things now in favor of an increased attendance and interest at the Waters-Jones revival in progress at the Tabernacle.

The Liberty Loan drive is over and only scattering remains are to be gathered up and kept tab on till May 4th when the campaign officially closes. People should now have more time to devote to attendance at these revival meetings.

Another feature of interest is the arrival on the scene of Mr. and Mrs. Scott. Mr. Scott will have charge of the song service at each service the remainder of the week. He will assist Miss Nell Dryfoos and each will sing a solo at each service both afternoon and evening. Mr. and Mrs. Scott sang a duet Sunday night which was much appreciated. Mr. Scott for years has traveled with Rev. Waters as his song leader and on account of his health was compelled to take a vacation. He comes among us an experienced and talented leader and the public will appreciate these splendid folks.

Rev. Waters preached a very strong sermon Sunday night taking for a subject "The Witness of the Spirit" and using as a text the scripture: "And I say unto thee that thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." He discussed the transforming power of the spirit in the individual or community, and used many timely illustrations to show why a person should accept Christ upon faith.

Sunday afternoon at the Tabernacle Rev. Mr. Jones preached a patriotic sermon to a good sized audience on "The Message of the Church to the World after the War." Space forbids the publication of many good and timely excerpts from Rev. Jones' sermon.

Suffice it to say, that his discussion of the influence of the German's philosophy of rationalism, materialism, and militarism upon the religion and church life of America showed much research and a devotion to the Christian religion that will recommend Mr. Jones as a student and true disciple of the church.

LETTERS WILL WIN THE WAR.

Corporal Holmes, writing about how the war has changed his life, says:

"I believe that the mothers and fathers in this country who are receiving letters from over there will say that these letters are a revelation to them. Your boys never used to write as they do now. These are not the casual notes they scribbled at college, nor the matter-of-fact epistles you received after they had gone to the city to work. After they have been over there longer, and the thought of death has become something that is never absent from their minds, you will find that you are only just beginning to know your boy."

"Somehow the best side of a man is the one he takes the most pains to hide. He can't talk about the things he threshes out in secret. He doesn't tell you about his struggle with temptation. He'd almost bite his tongue off before he would admit that somewhere deep inside of his heart or mind is an ideal that he is more or less intent on realizing."

"But when he thinks that he may die before he can do much about that ideal, he wants his mother and father to know at least that he did have one. The war may take your boy away from you—but it will also reveal him to you. When he feels that he may never have another chance, after he has sealed his letter, to tell his mother he loves her, he isn't going to let that chance go by. Over there in the trenches, with the thunder of the guns and the screech of the shells, he can, and will, talk to you as he never did here at home. That will be one of the compensations of war."—American Magazine.

WORK WEARS ON THE KIDNEYS

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Hopkinsville.

Many Hopkinsville people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys and bad backs. Their effective work in Hopkinsville is convincing proof of merit.

O. J. Willis, 523 O'Neal Ave., Hopkinsville, says: "Overstraining at my work caused my kidneys to become weak. My back ached dreadfully and I was so sore and lame, I could hardly lift anything or do any stooping over. My kidneys acted too freely and annoyed me day and night. I used Doan's Kidney Pills as directed and they went right to the spot, ridding me of the backaches and putting my kidneys in good order."

NATION'S PRESENT CRISIS REQUIRES FULL DUTY OF ALL

SECRETARY McADOO POINTS OUT THE OBJECT OF WAR SAVINGS AND THIRD LIBERTY LOAN.

LOAN CAMPAIGN INTENSIVE

The Work of Neither War Savings Nor Loan Organizations Should Be Permitted to Overlap.

By WILLIAM G. McADOO, Secretary of the Treasury.

To the Executives and Workers of the Liberty Loan and War Savings Campaigns:

As the time for the opening of the campaign for the Third Liberty Loan approaches, it seems advisable to set forth in a definite way a plan by which the activities of these two organizations shall be brought into union for the period of this campaign. The War Savings Organization should have for its primary object the education of our one hundred million of people to the idea that at this time of war and national crisis the practice of thrift is not alone a matter of personal wisdom or advantage, but is vitally necessary to the welfare of the nation. The United States government, in its prosecution of the war, requires the use of the products of labor to the extent of billions of dollars per annum, while at the same time it has been necessary to remove from productive employment over one million five hundred thousand men. This demand for material cannot be met if the normal needs of our population are continued. To a reduction of these needs the chief activities of the War Savings Organization should be directed, and as a complement to this work the savings thus effected, when translated into terms of money, should be invested in U. S. government securities.

On the other hand, the Liberty Loan Organizations are confronted with a problem of raising within a short space of time billions of dollars to meet the immediate requirements of the Treasury Department. Insofar as these monetary requirements can be met out of savings, the situation is thereby benefited, but in any case the money must be raised, and raised quickly. The campaign must therefore be intensive and, while pointing out the necessity of self-denial in expenditures, must be directed toward securing of subscriptions as well as numbers of subscribers. The needed amount must be raised, even though present savings are not sufficient and even though it becomes necessary to pledge future savings through the use of credit facilities.

In the coming Liberty Loan drive, therefore, the War Savings Organization should continue their efforts in the formation of War Savings Societies, educational work in the schools and general thrift propaganda. Their actual selling organization should, however, be combined and co-ordinated with that of the Liberty Loan Organization to the end that during this period sales of government securities, both Liberty Loan Bonds and War Savings Stamps, should be made in the largest amounts possible to each individual buyer, but the purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds rather than War Savings Stamps should, during this period, be the main object. To this end, during this period, all donated advertising space should be devoted to Liberty Loan offerings.

The first effort of both the Liberty Loan and War Savings organizations during the coming drive should be to sell Liberty Loan Bonds, and no member of the War Savings Organization should endeavor to divert a purchaser of Liberty Loan Bonds to the purchase of War Savings Stamps. On the other hand, there are persons who are unable to buy Liberty Loan Bonds, and all these persons should be urged to buy War Savings Stamps.

With regard to partial payment subscriptions to Liberty Loan Bonds, these should be encouraged, but where employers of labor or others have formed efficient War Savings Societies which are actually obtaining systematic and adequate subscriptions to War Savings Stamps this work should not be interfered with by an endeavor to supersede the War Savings Societies by the introduction of the partial payment plan for subscriptions to Liberty Loan Bonds. Such War Savings Societies should make every possible endeavor to promote the sale not only of War Savings Stamps but Liberty Loan Bonds during the coming drive. The loyal army of workers in both these organizations must realize that they are working for a common cause, though by different methods; that each is a part of the Treasury Department force, and that each is under Treasury Department control.

Complete harmony and unity of purpose helps both organizations in the attainment of the purpose of each—the successful financing of the war on a sound basis. We must have complete and cordial co-operation between the two organizations, and I am sure that I may count upon every member of each organization for that kind of patriotic work.

I ask that these suggestions be carried into effect both in letter and in spirit.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

THIRD BATTLE OF YPRES DESCRIBED BY SERGEANT OF CANADIAN ARTILLERY.

(By International News Service.)

Chicago, April 19.—The thrilling eye-witness story of the third battle of Ypres was told here by Sergeant Reginald Grant, of the First Canadian Field Artillery.

"We were in Sanctuary woods about a mile southeast of town. We were the sacrifice battery and were to stay behind and cover the retreat of our comrades if there should be a retreat. Well, our boys went out of the trench and were met by the Germans in mass formation.

"They were smothered—but not before they had wrecked frightful havoc. They died to a man. The Hun came on yelling with all their lungs and as they neared we blew great holes in that formation. But we didn't stop them. They came on running and yelling like fiends of Hell.

"Our ammunition was gone. We grabbed parts of the guns and our rifles, and retreated with the rest, stopping now and then to drop one or two of the enemy.

"The battery to our right didn't have a chance to use all their shells. The Boche was upon them too quickly with smoke shells that started great fires. The boys there were burned alive.

"Yes, they are fighters, the Germans. But so are the British."

STRATEGY.

An ancient duck named Fabius was noted as a poke.

He dilled and he dallied till his soldiers hoped he'd choke; He got the goat of Hannibal by pulling such delay.

He'd just withdraw his army, but was always in the way;

They called him yellow, freak and nut but to this wild contention

He'd say, procrastination is the mother of invention.

What Quintus did in A. U. C. or B. C. emptydump

Both Foch and Haig are doing now, and both are on the jump.

Though oft it seems it isn't time for pawns and for carols,

We know the chance is coming and the Hun will get both barrels;

When Uncle Sam is ready, then we'll praise this wise abstention,

We'll know procrastination was the mother of invention.

WALTER HOYT

REACHED HIS HOME IN INDIANA
LAST SATURDAY AND IS CONVALESCENT.

Perryville, Ind., April 20.
Dr. J. B. Jackson,
Hopkinsville, Ky.
Dear Sir and Friend:

I promised to inform you as to our arrival. We got home O. K. and the soldier boy feeling fine at this writing. Also I have just sent a wire to Camp Sevier in regard to him. Well, it was snowing when we arrived and it made me think of the sunny clime of old Kentucky. Again let me thank you for your kindness personally.

The good people of our community at Perryville and Cayuga, Ind., waited the arrival of the soldier boy and extended many courtesies, which we greatly appreciated. It showed the respect they have for him. I am enclosing a letter written by him and published in the Cayuga Herald, last winter, which shows why we are proud of him. If it is not too much trouble, I would like to have this letter and the one enclosed published in your Daily Kentuckian.

Hoping you and your family many bright hours in this life, I assure you of my high esteem. At any time you may see fit to write me, at your leisure, the letter will be received with gladness.

Your Friend,

R. L. HOYT.

From Walter Hoyt.
Jefferson Barracks, Mo., Dec. 27, '17.

Dear parents:—Will try and write a few lines to let you know that I am still O. K. and like it fine but have got some cold—went and got some medicine for it and am getting better now. Got my first drilling this morning—some class to it—got the march step all right—too much stop and start to it. We are sure having some fine weather here, lots of sunshine, not nearly as cold in Missouri as it is in Indiana. It rained a little bit today.

I saw where the noted bandit, Jesse James, is buried, and where his hiding place was. It is a big cave about one-half of a mile through. There are big shelves in it where he kept his money. It sure is some sight, right on the banks of the Mississippi. It is about four miles from here, south on the Missouri Pacific railroad. This ground is right out in the woods—woods and hills all round. The boys have to go out and help clear up the ground. The barracks next to ours is close in on account of spinal meningitis. They gave me a shot in the arm for it—no danger now of my getting it. I guess it is sure death. They killed two spies the other day, so I was told. I did not see it. One tried to poison our cats; the other had some papers on him. They don't fool with these kind any here.

I suppose my clothes got home all O. K. Had to send them collect. They would not accept them any other way. I sure have got some clothes now—two shirts, three pair socks, two suits underwear, uniform and overcoat, it sure is heavy. I got another waist now. They dress a fellow warm.

I guess they will send us out about the first of the year. Has there been much snow since I left? Well, I hope everybody is well. Tell all of the brothers and sisters I said, "hello." Well, tell them to write to me. I can get mail now at the branch office. Don't send any packages for they might have to be forwarded to me.

I am reminded to quote here a few stanzas from my favorite poem, Longfellow's Psalm of Life:

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
Be not like dumb driven cattle,
Be a hero in the strife.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

Footprints that perhaps another Sailing o'er life's solemn main
Some forlorn and shipwrecked brother
Seeing may take heart again.

Let us then be up and doing
With a heart for any fate,
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

I will close for this time, wishing everybody a Happy New Year.

PRINCESS TODAY

Charming Star To Be Seen in Swift Moving Drama Bearing the Title of "The Spurs of Sybil."

Alice Brady, the charming star, will be seen in "The Spurs of Sybil," and in this picture, Miss Brady appears in an unusual, different role, in which her charm, beauty and ability are seen to the best possible advantage.

The story is a modern, metropolitan tale telling of the adventures of a beautiful young society butterfly, Sybil Drew, when she is told to go out into the world and earn her own living. She has been a "poor relation" dependent upon her wealthy aunt for support and this aunt decides that Sybil's unhappiness and discontent is due entirely to her dependent condition. Therefore, the aunt decides on this drastic means of bringing happiness to Sybil.

The story is jammed full of surprises and thrills. It runs the gamut of emotions, too, and is an altogether interesting entertainment of great merit. See it.

PRINCESS TOMORROW.

"More Truth Than Poetry."

Madame Petrova appears as a novelist, also as the heroine of the story she is writing. In addition to being the star in "More Truth Than Poetry," Madame Olga Petrova is also the author of the story. The subject is a society drama based on domestic infidelity presented as a variant of the "dream" idea recently prevalent. The opening scenes show a novelist dictating to her stenographer; then the action shifts and the story is visualized.
Also, as many of the dream pictures, just as the climax is reached an interruption occurs, and the story remains unfinished. A satisfactory ending is secured by showing the culmination of the novelist's own romance.

ARE ENROLLING

GOVERNMENT'S WANT COLUMN
BEING FILLED BY YOUNG MEN.

The Government's appeal for young men of draft age to volunteer for training in many occupations is being answered. Saturday night there were only three who had applied to the local board, but the Kentuckian appeal in its issue of Sunday morning brought six more Monday. These men are not waiting to be drafted but are volunteering and will receive several weeks training at the expense of the Government in the best schools in the country and fit them for useful occupations connected with winning the war: Carpenters, blacksmiths, mechanics, electricians, welders, truck drivers, cooks, painters, telephone operators, and many others.

Over 70 occupations are listed. Six of these are taught to colored men and they should apply to the local board also. This opportunity will not be open after April 27, and applications should be made now.

The Leonard Cleanable
ONE-PIECE PORCELAIN LINED REFRIGERATOR

Can be cleaned in five minutes
You Can't Have Clean Food Unless You
Have a Clean Refrigerator—

YOU wouldn't of course, eat anything but clean food. Yet food cannot be clean that has been in an unsanitary refrigerator. A bad odor in your refrigerator is always a danger signal.

Zinc or galvanized iron linings for refrigerators are unsanitary. Even though coated with white paint or enamel, they soon get stained and dis-colored. Worse still, cracks and scratches develop which fill with grease and food particles. This germ is fostered causing a most unsanitary condition.

A Leonard Cleanable is made with a one-piece porcelain lining, smooth, pure white, protecting against all germ growth. It is absolutely cleanable. This porcelain you cannot get dirty, not even with a steel brush. It has no cracks or crevices in which grease or germs may collect. It is as clean as a china dish and as easily kept clean. Notice how the porcelain lining of the Leonard Cleanable is made. Look for the trademark shown below.

See your family's safe, learn about the Leonard Cleanable. We want to tell you its many good qualities.
Call and get an interesting booklet, "The Care of Refrigerators." It contains many good points you ought to know.
